

The Scarsdale Public Library proudly presents:
Father/daughter writing team Kevin and Hannah Salwen, speaking on their book

THE POWER OF HALF

One Family's Decision to Stop Taking and Start Giving Back

Motivated by then fourteen-year-old Hannah, the Salwens decided to sell their big, beautiful Atlanta home and give half the proceeds of the sale to charity. Until then, the Salwens had been caught up like so many of us in the classic American dream—providing a good life for their children, accumulating more and more stuff, doing their part but not really feeling it. They hoped that by selling their house and making a sizable donation to a carefully selected charity, they could make things better in a small corner of the globe. Little did they expect how much they would change themselves.

Single parents, stepparents, grandparents—all parents—want to be closer to their kids, and want to learn how they can help their children be more socially responsible in their scarce free time.

“Mixing humor, inspiration and self-reflection, THE POWER OF HALF will give you a whole new perspective on your life.” — Jeffrey Zaslow, coauthor of The Last Lecture

“An adventure with a conscience.” — Susanne B. Beck, executive director, National Coalition of Girls' Schools

Wednesday, April 14, 7:30 p.m.

Scarsdale Public Library

Scott Room

Admission is Free

Presented with support from the Friends of the Scarsdale Library

